About Our Company

Aangan is a digital community marketplace designed exclusively for residential societies. It brings together the skills, services, and small businesses within a neighbourhood, making it easy for residents to discover and support one another. Whether it's home-cooked meals, tuition classes, handmade products, pet care, or repair services, Aangan transforms a housing society into a connected local ecosystem.

Vision • Mission • Purpose

Vision

To build stronger neighbourhoods by making every residential community a place where people can easily discover, support, and grow together.

Mission

Purpose

Aangan exists to make communities feel connected again. By giving visibility to local talent and small businesses within a society, it helps residents find what they need close to home while creating opportunities for neighbours to support one another.
